Balmy Weather Sees More Work on Old Glory Project

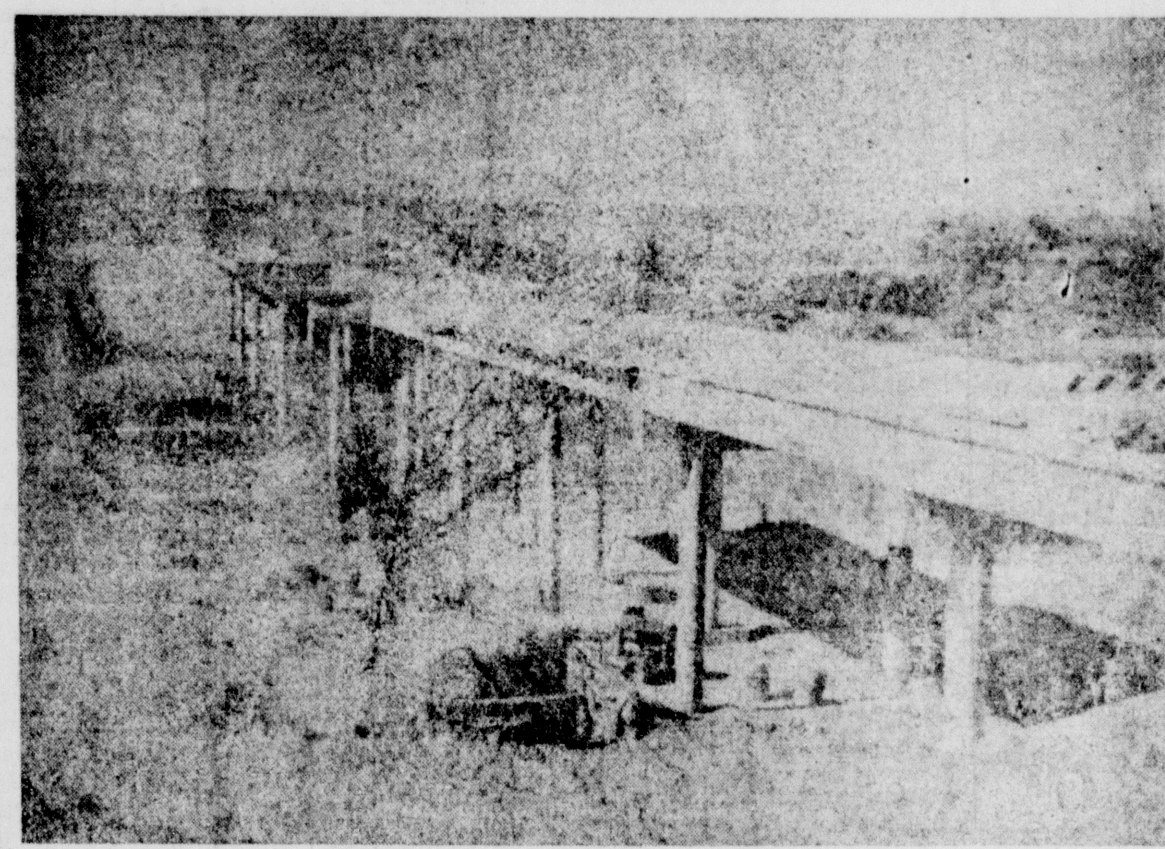

After several days of warmer weather that has permitted big scale operation, the highway project from Hamlin north to Old Glory has made good headway.

First course of base material has been completed on the 8.8-mile highway stretch from the end of the pavement at the Jones-Stonewall County line four miles north of the Midwest Cooperative Oil Mill to the big Brazos River bridge east of the Hamlin Sand & Gravel Company plant.

Grading and drainage structures have been completed on the four-mile stretch north from the bridge to end of pavement five miles south of Old Glory. First course of base is now being applied.

Steel spans for the 230-foot main bridge section over the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, scheduled to arrive first of last week, have again been delayed. Workmen at the project, however, are installing the steel "side-boards" on the rest of the big bridge that is 550 feet long and is costing more than $160,000.

The entire project still should be completed by early summer with fair working conditions, says Nelson Shave, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department.

ONE OF BIGGEST BRIDGES in the Central West Texas area, when completed soon, will be this big cross-over on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River being erected on the new Hamlin-to-Old Glory highway. Located about 12 miles northeast of Hamlin, the structure is 110 feet above the water at the main span and 550 feet long, and will cost more than $160,000. Practically all the concrete work has been completed, and steel spans for the 230-foot main section are due within a few days. Steel "side-boards" are being installed by workmen now at the big structure.

FRUIT TREES BLOOM.

During the balmy weather that has persisted the past several days peach, plum and pear trees in the area have burst into bloom.

Thursday Is Last Day To Buy License Plates

Final day for legal purchase of 1960 car licenses is next Thursday, reminds Jim King, deputy license dealer at Hamlin, as he declared this week that only about one-half of the licenses for the area had been written at mid-week.

It was erroneously stated in last week's Herald that April 15 is the deadline. This deadline is for motor vehicle inspection instead of license tags.

After April 1 a 20 per cent penalty will be added to the license tag fee, and vehicles operated without new tags be subject to a fine.

Easter Holidays Will Give Schools Recess

School students, teachers and others of the community already are making plans for the Easter holidays, which will be observed in the Hamlin schools by dismissal of classes for two days.

Classes will dismiss on Thursday, April 14, and resume on Tuesday, April 19, it is announced by Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook. With the usual two-day week-end, the holiday period will provide four days without classes.

Accident Drowning Ruled in Lake Death

Verdict of death by accidental drowning was rendered in the Sunday evening death of Henry W. Plemons of Hamlin by Justice of the Peace C. H. Branscum of Roby.

Body of the 71-year-old retired farmer was found afloat in the Hamlin West Lake about 8:45 Sunday evening by two teen-age brothers, who were members of a party of friends and relatives searching for the man some three hours after he had left his home at 220 Southwest Avenue D in Hamlin. Danny and Bobby McCurdy, high school boys, found the body. According to the boys, they were walking toward the lake dam and saw a hat and a pair of glasses on the ground. They used their flashlights along the banks of the lake and thus discovered the body, floating face up in the water.

Fisher County Sheriff Bus Rollins, Hamlin Police Chief Buddy Watson, Hamlin Policeman M. M. Cade, friends and relatives comprised the search party. The lake is in Fisher County, about a mile west of Hamlin, which is in Jones County.

Born March 30, 1889, in McLellan County, the drowning victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Plemons. He married the former Almada Moon at Corinth in 1910, and had farmed in the Hamlin area for many years before retiring several years ago. He was a member of the Hamlin Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church. Officiating were the pastor, Rev. T. M. Harrell, and Rev. R. A. Guthrie, former pastor at Hamlin.

Interment was in the New Hope Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Elbert Payne, Benson Payne, Eddie B. Hopper, Leonard Goodgame, John Sumrall, Robert Colwell, Robert Cary Sr. and Ralph Hellums.

Topping Put on Two Blocks of Pavement

Final coat of asphalt and gravel was being applied Tuesday and Wednesday to Southeast Second and Third Streets between Central Avenue and Southeast Avenue A by the paving contractors, Bud Chastain & Sons.

Bad weather has hampered the finishing of the paving project started early last winter.

Other paving projects for Hamlin are being planned for the spring and summer.

FARM FAMILY WILL REMAIN BULWARK IN PLAN

The apparent race toward corporation farming will be won by the farm family.

The big limiting factor that will handicap the trend toward very large or corporation farming is hired labor, points out Dr. George Scarseth of the American Farm Research Association.

Labor wants its pay on Saturday night, even when economic times are pressing hard; this happens often in the farming industry, which is largely biological and cannot be turned off like a steel furnace when the markets are full.

The only laborers on the farm who will tighten their belts to ride through a depression are members of the farm family. Therefore, the farm family will remain the bulwark to make farming a solid business.

This has its difficulties, in that most every phase of farming faces a new competition, not only from other producing areas, but from other farmers who are in a position to apply new technologies and business methods.

To escape the handicap of hiring much labor, the farmer will turn more and more to mechanization. The size of the farm will be large enough to make a volume fitted to a family's support.

The machines can be turned off when there is no work, but the labor needed at peak seasons is a burden when there is only busy work for it to do.

The point where labor has to be supervised by hired help may be the breaking point limiting the size of farming operations.

Russia is trying very large farms. A lot of people are involved with low output per person. The farming plans are made by committees. Committees do not think. Only individuals think. This is the core of a free enterprise must retain to give the American farmers an opportunity to move into the new areas of good land use and efficient food production at a return that stimulates improvements.

Excuses and Alibies

There is a legend at Harvard that the late Le Baron Russell Briggs, beloved dean of the college, once asked a student why he had failed to complete an assignment.

"I wasn't feeling very well, sir," said the student.

"Mr. Smith," said the dean, "I think that in time you may find that most of the work of the world is done by people who aren't feeling very well."

Dean Briggs, a man of not too robust health, may have been feeling a little seedy himself when he uttered it; he may have dragged himself to the office that morning only because he put his responsibilities ahead of his comforts.

The dean knew that there is such a thing as a sensibly prudent attitude toward one's health. But he also knew that the symptoms of fatigue and of laziness are practically identical: that it is hard to tell the difference between not feeling well and not feeling like doing a hard job. He knew, too, that the wise man who has an assignment to complete by Friday has done so much of it on Tuesday and Wednesday that a headache Thursday won't matter much.

Anger blows out the lamp of the mind. In the examination of a great and important question, every one should be serene, slow-pulsed and calm.—Ingersoll.

Two Golden Days

There are two days of the week upon which and about which I never worry. Two care-free days kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is yesterday, with all its pains and aches, all its faults and blunders, it has passed forever beyond the reach of my recall. Save for the beautiful memories, sweet and tender, that linger like the perfume of roses in the heart of the day that has gone, I have nothing to do with yesterday. It was mine; it is God's.

And the other day I do not worry about is tomorrow, with all its possibilities, adversities, its burdens, its perils, its large promise. Its sun will rise in roscate splendor, or behind a mask of clouds. But it will rise. Tomorrow—it will be mine.

There is left for myself, then, but one day of the week—today. Any man can fight the battles of today. Any woman can carry the burdens of just one day.

Therefore, I think, and I do, and I journey for but one day at a time. And while faithfully and dutifully I run my course, and work my appointed task on this one day, God the Almighty takes care of yesterday and tomorrow.—Robert J. Burdette.

Editorial of the Week

WEAKNESSES AND ERRORS

So long as the government keeps on "helping" the farmer, we quite likely will be hearing more of the things the general accounting office (watchdog of Congress) has just reported.

That some $270,000,000 is being paid out over a five-year period to retire from crop production land which hadn't been producing much in the way of crops. For instance, some "crop" land was put in the soil bank—at the expense of the taxpayers—although all that had been produced in five years was a single mowing of hay.

GAO said 23 per cent of the land now in the soil bank previously hadn't been growing crops at all—but had been "devoted to hay and pasture", had been idle or summer fallowed or had a history of crop failure. Taking it out of "production" certainly didn't help much to reduce surpluses.

But it is what must be expected when the government cooks up schemes to solve economic ills by pouring out the taxpayers' money in big bundles.

It isn't just that somebody is careless or crooked—although there is plenty of that. But the complexity—and futility—of these programs are just bound to lead to waste and squander.—The Fort Worth Press.

W. R. Townsend, Hamlin area farmer, was honored as a charter member of the University Baptist Church in Abilene at the fiftieth anniversary celebration at the church Sunday.

Good rains have fallen in the Hamlin area in recent days, but continued cold weather has hurt small grain growth.

Civil Defense, United Fund and City-Wide Clean-Up Programs Projected

Plans for organizing Civil Defense, United Fund and clean-up programs were topics for discussions at a meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Board of Community Development last Tuesday evening, according to Melvin Scott, committee chairman.

After hearing a report from L. J. Cunningham, hospital administrator, on the need for a civil defense program in Hamlin, the committee acted immediately to lay plans for organizing and scheduled a series of meetings with CD officials.

Another item heading the agenda was the problem most communities have with fund raising campaigns to give one time for all-giving the united way. The committee voted unanimously to follow through with organization plans for a united fund program.

It was pointed out that individuals could, if they wanted to, earmark their contributions for specific projects.

A meeting date with United Fund officials from Abilene was set for tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:30 p. m. in the oil mill guest house.

Weldon Johnson, Santa Fe agent, was appointed to head a community-wide clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign for Hamlin. The week of April 13 to 23 was designated as Hamlin Clean-Up Week, at which time the whole community would be asked to co-operate in making Hamlin sparkle.

Other business at the Tuesday meeting included recommendations for additional paving. It was pointed out that many drive-ways and alleys on existing thoroughfares were unpaved, and cars pull dirt and gravel onto existing paving which keeps streets extremely dirty, requiring more repair and maintenance.

It was also recommended that all new development should be required to provide paving before being granted a building permit.

The committee heard reports on the progress being made for developing a master plan for Hamlin. Scott expressed his personal appreciation for the excellent attendance and interest shown in civic work by those present, and he stressed the importance of doing the things which need to be done to make Hamlin a better place in which to live.

But, the nation's farms needed power, and the nation's workers desperately needed work. So rural electrification began as an arm of the Works Progress Administration in that depression year.

In 1936, Congress passed the rural electrification act, setting up a long term program, now known as REA, which made it possible for groups of rural people to work together to serve themselves with electricity.

Only three per cent of American farms were electrified by 1925, 10 per cent by 1931, and barely 11 per cent had central station electricity when REA came to life in 1933. Today about 96 per cent of American farms have electricity, largely through efforts of the REA system.

Elementary Students See Rattler and Hear About Snake Hunt's

Students of the fourth and fifth grade of Hamlin Elementary School had the privilege of hearing about the Sweetwater Rattlesnake Round-Up Tuesday when Mrs. Jack Russell showed films and a live "rattler" to the classes. She explained how the snakes are caught and how she caught a nine-pound rattler.

Another outstanding event in the science and health classes was a lecture given recently by Mrs. Tina Jones, a fourth grade teacher, on the respiratory, circulatory and digestive organs of the body. She used a model of the body and displayed each organ as she gave her talk.

The pupils have done some good work in science this year, reports their teacher, and had much of their work on display at the open house of the schools recently.

"I know," he answered, "that's why I poisoned you."

Crippled Child for Lions Club Camp Yet to Be Named

A child or youth from the Hamlin community is yet to be named to this summer's stay at the Texas Lions Club Crippled Children's Camp, it was announced at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the Hamlin Lions Club. Investigation is being made of candidates for the camp, according to club officials. The camp, near Kerrville, is operated by Lions Clubs of the state for youngsters with crippling disabilities.

Hamlin Lions Club has been among top ranking clubs of District 2E-1 in attendance in recent weeks, it was announced by President Donley Williams.

Rural Electrification...good for All Americans!

Business is better today—paychecks fatter, jobs more secure in every American city and town. And—there's a good reason why.

This year 16 million Americans, now served by non-profit rural electric systems, will buy over a billion dollars worth of electric appliances—made, sold and serviced in these cities and towns.

That was impossible 25 years ago. Then only one of ten American families, outside the city limits, had or could get electric power. That's when rural Americans, by working together, began to serve themselves with this necessity of modern living.

So—we cordially invite all Americans to share our joy as we celebrate the 25th Birthday of rural electrification. We are proud to have played a small but important part in bringing this "miracle" about. We are happy that rural electrification has proved to be "good for ALL Americans."

Planning Ahead to Use Plentiful Foods Can Mean Economy

A bit of planning ahead makes a big difference in meal preparation just as it does in other efforts.

And a wise menu planner knows the food items that are in abundant supply and available for careful selection and economy. That's one reason the U. S. Department of Agriculture prepares a monthly list of plentiful foods, say foods specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of College Station.

What will be plentiful in April? Cranberry products head the list. Supplies of colorful cranberry sauce and juice are large enough to encourage wide use of this food all month, according to figures of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

That's a happy selection, because cranberries go so well with all of the plentiful meats—pork, including ham for Easter, broilers and fryers and shrimp. Other high protein plentiful foods are eggs, milk and dairy products and peanuts and peanut butter.

Canned blackberries, especially those from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, also are plentiful in the Southwest. Other fruits in good supply include canned freestone peaches, raisins and fresh dates.

These are the foods that pave the way for hearty springtime eating in the weeks ahead. The supply of each is expected to exceed normal demand.

Hamlin FFA Girls and Ronnie Parker Participate in Stephenville Area Meet

Sue Greenway of Stephenville was installed as president of Area IV, Future Homemakers of America, at the group's annual meeting Saturday at Tarleton State College in Stephenville. Several girls from Hamlin High School were among the more than 1,100 girls from 100 chapters over a 23-county area who attended.

Principal speakers were Ronnie Parker of Hamlin and Mrs. Ruth Ann King of Abilene. Discussing the theme of the meeting, "Mirror, Mirror, on the Wall," Ronnie emphasized development of mental and spiritual potentialities. Mrs. King told the Future Homemakers to develop their physical and inner abilities.

Honorary memberships were awarded to Mrs. Joe Stephens of Hamlin, Jones County school nurse; Mrs. Adelle Forrest, a Woodson homemaker; and W. S. Thomas, superintendent of Holliday schools. These memberships are awarded to adults who have gone beyond the call of duty to help FFA.

Ann Richey of Hamlin, state secretary of FFA, introduced Ronnie Parker and also gave a report on the national meeting held in Chicago last year.

Those attending from Hamlin were Ann Richey, Janice Richardson, Nina Jean, Mrs. Jack Richey, Mrs. Joe Stephens, Aileen Broyles, Betty Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wayne Carter and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Simmons.

THAT EXPLAINS IT.
"No license, lady, growled the traffic cop. "Don't you know you can't drive without one?"
"That explains everything," she said. "I thought it was because I was nervous and near-sighted that I hit two cars and ran into a fire hydrant."

In some marriages most troubles are relative.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Texas Democrats have marked June 14 on their calendars. Austinites have circled it in red.

June 14 is the day some 5,000 Texas Democrats will converge on the capital city for their state convention.

It's expected to be many big days rolled into one.

It will be the first time in recent memory that the huge colorful gathering has come to Austin. A large new city auditorium and convention center makes it possible.

It's the day that comes only once every four years when Texans name delegates to a national presidential nominating convention.

But most excitement centers on the fact that Texas Democrats will be assuring what is usually a once-in-a-lifetime role—that of sponsoring a major contender for the presidential nomination.

Work is underway in every part of the state to insure that the delegates to Austin will give rousing support to Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for favorite son nominee and chairman of the Texas delegation to Los Angeles.

Senator Johnson's chances of becoming president were re-emphasized by Governor Price Daniel and cheered by the state Democratic executive committee when the party leaders met to plan the June convention.

Committee members selected Dallas for the second state Democratic convention on September 20. Their meeting also was made an occasion for honoring Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin for a quarter century of loyal service to the Texas Democratic party.

Court Rejects Vote Hassle.—The Texas Supreme Court, refused to consider a direct appeal from the City of Austin that it order a complete recount of votes in a hotly contested urban renewal election.

Issue has had Austinites in a stew for months. It was originally announced after the election in December that urban renewal had carried by a 52-vote margin. Eight property owners contested the election results on grounds that ballots were cast by persons not qualified to vote.

After nine of 18 contested boxes had been opened, District Judge James K. Everts of Belton declared the election void. He said there were so many disqualified voters and improperly marked ballots that it was impossible to determine the election outcome.

Austin's city attorney petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Everts to open and examine all the ballot boxes. He contended the qualified voters had a right to have their votes counted.

Having lost out on a direct plea to the Supreme Court, City Attorney Dorn Eskew said he would go through the usual appeal route, going first to the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

College Home Delayed.—Governor Daniel's office and the Legislative Budget Board are to make a "full review" before plans proceed to build an $87,000 home for the president of Sam Houston State College.

A number of legislators hit the ceiling last session over similarly costly homes built for presidents of Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College. Restrictions were written into the current appropriations bill aimed at preventing further expenditures on such a scale.

Representative James M. Cotten, member of the House committee on saving taxes wrote the governor to protest what he called a "tremendous waste."

Governor Daniel said he had been assured by the chairman of the board of regents for state teachers' colleges that no action would be taken until everyone interested had had his say. He pointed out, however, the home was to be built from constitutionally allocated funds to which the legislative appropriation restrictions "have been held not to apply."

More Judges Suggested.—Larger metropolitan areas such as Houston, Dallas and San Antonio may soon need larger Courts of Civil Appeals. This observation was made by Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court and others in astudy made for the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Judge Norvell suggested that five judges, rather than three, may be needed soon for the courts in the city areas.

Supreme Court, the study also noted, may also soon need some further restrictions on cases it will handle to prevent too heavy dockets. Civil Appeals Courts were created to keep everything from going to the Supreme Court.

KERRY DRAKE

NO DICE, KERRY! NOTHING HERE THAT EVEN LOOKS LIKE X-RAY EQUIPMENT!

THAT'S RIGHT, DUDE! AND A MACHINE POWERFUL ENOUGH TO HAVE KILLED TWO WOLVES. WOULD BE FAIRLY LARGE!

WELL, SATISFIED, OFFICERS!

NO WOLVES! WELL, NOT PULL YOU IN FOR FURTHER QUESTIONING NOW... BUT DON'T EITHER OF YOU LEAVE TOWN!

but the high court is flooded with appeals from these courts.

Judge Norvell suggested limiting the Supreme Court to constitutional issues and cases where there is a conflict in judicial decisions.

Oil Allowable Cut.—Texas Railroad Commission cut the state's oil production for April after testimony that both crude oil and gasoline were in over-supply.

April allowable will be 2,814,252 barrels a day, a cut of 123,023 barrels a day from March. Number of producing days was cut from 10 to nine.

Oil men told the commission that other states, such as Louisiana and Mississippi, had not cut back production to offset the over-supply as Texas has. This state, said one Texas executive bitterly, is taking the "backlash" of the situation.

Tighter Driving Law.—Legislation that would crack down on the driver who does not even have a driver's license has been proposed for the next session.

Representative Ben Lewis of Dallas said that under present law a person who drives without having a license can only be hauled before a city court and fined about $10.

By contrast, he said, a license holder who gets three tickets and has his license suspended can, if he drives during the suspension, be put in jail and fined as much as $500.

Lewis said he would propose a series of stiffer penalties for the people who cannot pass driver tests but drive anyway.

Three from Hamlin Pledged at McMurry

Lulan Vaughan Gets Broken Arm in Auto Collision in Abilene

Lulan Vaughan, retired Hamlin school teacher of 1138 West Lake Drive, who last Saturday afternoon sustained a broke arm in a traffic accident in Abilene, was doing nicely at mid-week.

The Hamlin woman sustained the broken arm and was hospitalized as the result of a two-car accident at the intersection of North Fifth and Hickory Streets shortly after noon Saturday.

She was in a car driven by Mrs. Lucretia Self Stell, also a Hamlin school teacher for many years, traveling north on Hickory Street when it was in collision with a car driven by Glenda Taylor, 15, going east on North Fifth Street.

According to investigating Patrolman Bill Pointer, damage to the Taylor auto, a 1953 Plymouth, was approximately $225, and to the Stell auto, a 1956 Chevrolet, some $600.

A membership drive will be conducted following the Thursday meeting, Howard said.

Lewis Timberlake of Stamford, vice president of Region 5 of the Jaycees, was moderator of the session last Friday evening. He was assisted by Keith Wheatley and Sammy Davy, both of Stamford.

Present were representatives from Jaycee organizations at Anson, Stamford, Snyder and Abilene.

Area Oil Royalty Holders' Hopes for More Pay Bashed

Land owners and royalty holders of the Hamlin territory, hoping for months for improved oil production and increased royalty checks, again were disappointed when the April allowances were announced last week-end by the Texas Railroad Commission at Austin.

The commission slashed the April state-wide oil allowable by 123,029 barrels to 2,814,252 barrels a day.

Strong pressure was exerted on the three-member oil regulatory agency to drop the allowable by more than 300,000 barrels in hopes of cutting surplus stocks and eliminating pipeline proration.

The permissive flow pattern is based on nine producing days, meaning wells will be shut down 21 days next month. A majority of the oil firms and independent oil producers appearing before the commission sought an eight-day pattern.

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson reported crude stocks in the nation totaled 251,700,000 barrels as of March 4, some 1,700,000 barrels below the desired level as estimated for this date by the oil company executives a year ago. Products are 60,800,000 barrels high.

Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers of Are to Stage Annual Show at Stamford

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Hamlin community, along with boys of the rest of the Chisholm Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will participate Saturday in the annual Scout-O-Rama, scheduled for this year at Stamford, declares Kenneth Laferly, Scout executive of the area.

About 500 Boys Scouts are expected to take part in the event, appropriately called the fiftieth anniversary show, which is to commemorate the golden fiftieth anniversary of Boy Scouting. The show will be staged in the Astin store buildings on the east side of the square in Stamford. It will be operated on a district basis under the supervision of the district committee, chaired by Roe Eastland of Stamford.

Up to last week-end more than 40 booths had been spoken for in which crafts will be displayed.

Laferly said the mayors of Stamford, Hamlin, Haskell, Anson, Albany, Rule, O'Brien, Moran, Rochester and Lueders are invited to act as judges over the various booths.

Booths will be occupied by Cubs, Scouts and Explorers and will feature various phases of Scouting including cubbing at home, scrapbooks, feats of skill, handicraft, collections, bird houses, model boats, basket weaving, den games, puppets, papercraft, bead work, rope making, plaster casting, den furniture and tin can craft, all in the Cub pack division.

Scouting exhibits will include tenderfoot knots, compass, tents, camping gear, tower and bridge building, miniature camps, rope making, tin can cooking, first aid, finger printing, etc., and canoeing, radio, guns, archery, photography and various other categories.

DOWN IN THE GUTTER.

The sports car owner was giving a friend his first ride in one of the low-slung models. The friend appeared to be puzzled so the driver asked what was wrong.

"I can't figure out what that long wall is which we've been passing."

"That's no wall," snapped the driver, "it's the curb."

Contracts Let for Microwave Project In Hamlin Region

Contracts have been let and work is to begin immediately on a $90,000 microwave system between Stamford in Northeastern Jones County and Sweetwater in Nolan County. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company officials announced last week-end.

D. D. Dillard, district manager for Bell, said that Boyd J. McDaniel Company of Abilene has been awarded contracts for buildings, and Tower Construction Company of Sioux City, Iowa, was awarded contracts to erect towers.

Two two-room buildings are to be built. One will be north of Roby off Highway 70 to the west, and the other will be built six miles north of Sweetwater, off Farm Road 419.

The buildings, of concrete block construction, will house microwave and emergency power generating equipment.

A 11-foot microwave antenna is to be erected atop the Belmont exchange telephone building in Sweetwater, Dillard said.

Other construction will consist of a small building at the rear of the Prospect dial telephone building in Stamford to house emergency power generating equipment. The Prospect exchange is to be rearranged to provide for microwave equipment.

Facilities are also to be provided at Hamlin for the installation of emergency generators.

Towers are to be erected at Sweetwater, Roby, Hamlin and Stamford. Towers will range from 100 to 240 feet in height, the highest being at Hamlin.

WASTING AWAY?

The junior executive had been complaining of aches and pains to his wife. Neither one could account for his trouble.

Arriving home from work one night he informed her: "I finally discovered why I've been feeling so miserable. We got some ultra-modern office furniture two weeks ago, and I just learned today that I've been sitting in the wastebasket."

Two Wildcats and Two Pluggings in Area Oil Spotlight

Staking of two wildcats, report on drilling in another prospect, and two pluggings constitute highlights of oil activity in the Hamlin territory this week.
